

APPEAL

I APRIL 28, 1866.

Madison Street.

MATTERS.

MEMPHIS is our nation's capital, the seat of the government of the Confederacy, and advertising for the manufacture and North Mississippi. The city is the center of our patriotic and friends, and will render any assistance to us to promote the object of its existence.

BOWEN & BLOECK, Main street, several weeks past has laid to negotiations for the Courrier des Etats. Every Saturday, Double Eagle, Louisiana, Harper's and other news, of which he keeps on hand general supplies.

MEMPHIS. — The following telegram was received in the office: T. B. Colgan, M. C. Fallon, A. Latorre, Dr. Dr. Warren, T. W. Parker, Mrs. Anna Bow, J. M. Miller, M. Merion, A. Chese, Jno. Taylor, H. G. Hollenberg, James Garfield, Col. J. L. Kayser.

FATAL ACCIDENT. — We learn that about three o'clock yesterday afternoon, the colors were draped over the chamber of the Hon. Gen. Stoneman, who was en route by train to New Orleans, when he was struck by a negro, and thrown from his carriage, and being either unacquainted with the locality or driving in too far, both negro and horses were drowned. These are the facts as reported by a policeman who witnessed the accident, and who can give no information of the circumstances will be made by the military authorities.

IN RUMOUR'S COURT. — The following charges were brought and fines imposed: T. M. Turnley, drunks—$5; John Moffett, drunk—$6; Dick Richards, fighting—$1; J. P. Lane, fighting—drunk charged; A. Cornish, drunk—$6; Alexander F. Smith, fighting—$1; John Kelly, fighting—$1; John Wall, fighting—$6; John Rooney, fighting—$6; Nancy Brumly, drunk and disorderly—$1; John Malone, drunk—$6.

THE WEATHER. — Yesterday was very warm in the middle of the day, but after five o'clock it began to rain, and from the southeast delightfully tempered the atmosphere, and proved most acceptable and refreshing. The beauty of the moonlight every evening this week has been highly appreciated by the young ladies and gentlemen whom we have seen. The ice cream establishments have been doing a lively business, and the ice cream establishments have been doing a lively business, the young folks finding the frozen custard here select ice cream—very delicious in tempering the warmth of emotions evoked by sparkling eyes and the softly whispered inspirations of the hour.

MONUMENT TO THE MEMORY OF THE CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS. — The names were approved by a committee at the meeting last month, for the purpose of soliciting contributions for the erecting a monument to the memory of the Confederate dead of Memphis: W. R. Miller, H. M. Groveson, Sam Shandford, J. H. Bowen, Col. Will Taylor, Capt. Jas. Brown, Mr. George W. May, Major Amory, Miss Anna Forster, Miss Mary Cannon, Miss Mollie Noble, Miss Mattie Thorne, Miss Belle Lamb. The committee are requested to meet at 10 o'clock Monday morning, at the residence of Col. M. C. Gallaway, for the purpose of marking arrangements for future action.

A PRINCIPAL NOTICE. — We desire to call the attention of the police to one of the chief signs of intimacy which even disgraced any civilised community, and also to report constant violations of the ordinance forbidding the employing offensive matter in the press.

In Council, a house occupied by colored Cyprians, where at all hours of the day and night the ears of every one in the vicinity are subjected to the loudest and most profane language conceivable, and as such as darkness prevails, they are in the habit of depositing in the air the odors which pollute the air with vapors better imagined than described. We bear a great deal said and see much newspaper indignation over similar establishments occupied by unfortunate white women, but not one word against those negro institutions in the city—which would disgrace the worse porches of the infamous Five Points of New York.

PREPARE FOR THE SUMMER HEAT. — The citizens of Memphis must not rely too much on what the Board of Health, or other authorities may do for the preservation of the health of our city. If every family were to constitute itself an executive committee, and perform their duty faithfully, more can be accomplished than by any other way.

The following excellent suggestions we find in Hall's Journal of Health:

1. Every household owes it to himself, his wife, and children, to have his house, from cellar to roof, well ventilated, and every aperture cleaned, cleaned, cleaned.

2. Every man who has any authority in city, state, or nation, should, by every opportunity of the cell, office, and every other place, exert his influence, and help to put the law in force.

3. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

4. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

5. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

6. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

7. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

8. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

9. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

10. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

11. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

12. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

13. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

14. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

15. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

16. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

17. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

18. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

19. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

20. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

21. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

22. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

23. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

24. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

25. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

26. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

27. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

28. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

29. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

30. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

31. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

32. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

33. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

34. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

35. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

36. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

37. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

38. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

39. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

40. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

41. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

42. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

43. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

44. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

45. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

46. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

47. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

48. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

49. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

50. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

51. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

52. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

53. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

54. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

55. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

56. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

57. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

58. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

59. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

60. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

61. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

62. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

63. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

64. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

65. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

66. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

67. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

68. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

69. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

70. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

71. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

72. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

73. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

74. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

75. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

76. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

77. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

78. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

79. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

80. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

81. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

82. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

83. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

84. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

85. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

86. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

87. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

88. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

89. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

90. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

91. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

92. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

93. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

94. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

95. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

96. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

97. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

98. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

99. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.

100. Every person who has any influence, or any acquaintance with the police, should be turned to the service of the public.